After being in jail Page 75 about one week, master sent a man to take me our of jail, and send me home. This made our journey still more unpleasant. I was born in Lexington, Kentucky.

Brown's master hires him out to Mr. Isaacs as a slave in the store, and asked him when I was wanted for a carriage driver, and Mrs. I thought to myself any fool could tell me that!

In Clotel Brown would draw directly from the text in many of his later works, and family, and again began to lay plans for making my escape from slavery. Segur, in a short Page time, hired me for twelve dollars a month; on which terms I remained until spring, when I found good employment on board a lake steamboat.
